

INTERNATIONAL INSTITUTIONS

The SAGE Library of International Relations is a series of major works that brings together the most influential and field-defining articles, both classical and contemporary, in a number of key areas of research and inquiry in International Relations.

Each multi-volume set represents a collection of the essential published works collated from the foremost publications in the field by an Editor or Editorial Team of renowned international stature.

They also include a full introduction, presenting a rationale for the selection and mapping out the discipline's past, present and likely future.

This series is designed to be a 'gold standard' for university libraries throughout the world with an interest in International Relations.

Judith Goldstein is the Janet M. Peck Professor in International Communication at Stanford University and a Professor of Political Science at UCLA. She serves on the editorial boards of several prestigious journals including International Organization, International Studies Quarterly and World Politics. She has published extensively in journals and books and participates actively in the American Political Science Association. Her research interests range from International Relations, American Foreign Policy, Foreign Economic Policy to International Institutions, International Trade, World Trade Organization and NAFTA.

Richard Steinberg is Professor of Law at UCLA. He is on the editorial boards of the American Journal of International Law and International Organization. He is also a member of the Council on Foreign Relations. He has written numerous articles and books on international law. His most recent books are International Law and International Relations (co-edited, 2007, Cambridge University Press), and The Evolution of the Trade Regime: Economics, Law, and Politics of the GATT/WTO (co-authored, 2006, Princeton University Press).

Prior to arriving at UCLA School of Law, Richard Steinberg worked as Assistant General Counsel to the United States Trade Representative in Washington, D.C., and later as an associate with Morrison & Foerster in San Francisco. He also served as Project Director at the Berkeley Roundtable on International Economy (BRIE) at UC Berkeley.
